Growth In Action

A Letter from Our President & CEO

Dear Friends,

2023 was a year of tremendous growth for our area and the Heritage Foundation of Williamson County. As a community we have welcomed new neighbors, visited new businesses, and traveled new paths. As an organization, the Heritage Foundation has risen to the challenge of stewarding the soul of Williamson County by preserving the places and stories that matter in the midst of this growth.

Growth may feel like a word that is alien to a preservation nonprofit, but for me, the leadership, and the staff of the Heritage Foundation, we have used this time of growth to dig even deeper into our mission of saving and sharing those resources that make Williamson County so special.

We engaged our community in time-tested traditions such as hosting our 50th Annual Heritage Ball and our annual festivals. The Franklin Theatre welcomed guests from around the region for sold out shows and movies as they have been doing for decades.

To preserve and share the stories of our area, we committed to the restoration of historic properties that will become cultural amenities for our local neighbors and the millions of visitors that flock to visit our area.

At Franklin Grove Estate and Gardens, we celebrated the groundbreaking for a property that will eventually house an art museum, educational center, botanical gardens, and the historic Lee-Buckner Rosenwald School. At the Moore-Morris History and Culture Center in downtown Franklin, we celebrated a soft-opening and revealed the naming of this special property that will immerse visitors into the history of the area.

We advocated for the buildings and green spaces that tell the stories of our region—drawing together people from around the community to speak up in town halls on the importance of thoughtful development.

As we begin our journey into 2024, I hope that you'll join us in our season of growth. I have no doubt that when we grow together, we can reach milestones never before seen in the history of our organization.

Sincerely,

Bari Beasley
President & CEO

HERITAGE FOUNDATION
WILLIAMSON COUNTY, TN

MISSION

The Heritage Foundation of Williamson County preserves, promotes, and advocates for the historic places, stories, and culture of our community.

EDUCATION, PRESERVATION, ADVOCACY & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Our preservation efforts in 2023 rose to the challenge of our growing community. The Heritage Foundation of Williamson County hosted townhalls, informed the community with timely and relevant notes from the field, and spoke out at city and county meetings—all to further the preservation of our area’s unique character. Some of our program highlights included producing our third annual Sites to Save list, hosting our third annual Summer Educator Institute and our 6th annual Preservation Symposium. We also enjoyed being on the road around the county speaking at local events and representing Williamson County at regional and national conferences.

Many wonderful community education events were presented by the team, including our Warwick Lecture Series, Summer Educator Institute, Practical Preservation Series, and our first-ever Preservation Boot Camp. This half-day workshop covered the nitty-gritty of the preservation movement: how to list a historic place on the National Register, historic preservation overlays, maneuvering city and county processes, and advocacy tips when standing up for preserving places, spaces, and stories in Williamson County.

The 6th annual Preservation Symposium welcomed speakers from the historic Clayborne Temple in Memphis (Christine Anglin) and the National Trust for Historic Preservation (Katherine Malone-France). In addition, we also hosted our local preservation partners from Hard Bargain Association (Derrick Solomon), the Nolensville Historical Society (Michele Jenkins), and Franklin Preservation Partners (Rod Heller). Under the theme of “Preservation on the Frontlines,” we focused on the realities and recognition for how best to approach challenges in the face of development and continued growth in Williamson County. During the Symposium, we also held our annual Preservation Awards, presenting multiple awards for preservation in restoration and rehabilitation (as well as a lifetime achievement award to African American historian Ms. Thelma Battle, for her remarkable contributions to history and culture in Williamson County).

We also continued to shine a light on at-risk historic resources with the announcement of seventeen Sites to Save and watchlist members in 2023. The community-nominated Sites to Save list spanned across Williamson County and included Beechwood Hall (unincorporated Williamson County), the Historic Franklin Masonic Hall, the Jenkins-Wilson House (Nolensville), Nolensville Cemeteries, the 350-year-old Chinkapin Oak Tree known as “Ruth” (Arrington), the Civil War Earthworks (Triune), the Natchez Street Historic District (Franklin), the Daniel McMahan House & Cemetery (Franklin), and the Mill Creek Headwaters (Nolensville).

Other preservation and education initiatives included hosting our first-ever cemetery preservation workshop in partnership with the Center for Historic Preservation at MTSU, the Tennessee Civil War National Heritage Area, and the Hard Bargain Association in April. This half-day workshop left attendees with a better understanding of why preserving cemeteries is all about community. Also, on July 31st, we packed the house at The Franklin Theatre as we hosted our “Preservation, Education, & The Middle Eight: A Town Hall and Advocacy Forum” event. At this town hall event, several community partners spoke alongside the Heritage Foundation, voicing the need for smart, well-planned growth in our community.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

In 2023, the Heritage Foundation’s mission to enhance communities by safeguarding and revitalizing historical and cultural assets remained deeply impactful, capturing the support of donors, volunteers, sponsors, and the broader public. Tyrus Sturgis joined the organization in February as Chief Officer of Engagement to spearhead media-relations efforts throughout the organization.

Southall Farm & Inn was the site of our Patron’s Party where guests mingled, enjoyed drinks and hors d’oeuvres, bid on exclusive items, and honored Patron Award winners The Honorable Bill and Tracy Frist.

This year’s milestone 50th Annual Heritage Ball sponsored by RNM Management & Properties was a celebration of the ages. Chaired by Calvin and Marilyn LeHew and Sondra Morris, the event commemorated half a century of the Heritage Ball’s legacy in our community. With more than 760 guests in attendance, everyone felt like stars with red carpet photo opportunities, broadcast interviews, and a performance by Country Music Hall of Fame member Wynonna Judd. The evening also featured an inspiring video piece produced by Board member, Megan Alexander.

The future generation of preservationists actively participated throughout the year as Next Gen’s Late Party and Spring Picnic introduced young professionals to the cause. Jr. Heritage students held their third Jail & Bail fundraiser at the Old, Old Jail and raised thousands of dollars for the organization.

The community also gave of their time to attend our town hall meetings, welcome guests at our festivals, usher people to their seats at The Franklin Theatre, share news and resources from the Heritage Foundation with others, and let their voice be heard online and in civic meetings in support of preservation advocacy.

DOWNTOWN FRANKLIN ASSOCIATION

MISSION

To lead the continued revitalization and purposeful evolution of downtown Franklin in the context of historic preservation by building a diverse economic base, promoting unique features and the buy-local experience, fostering inviting and accessible people-centric public spaces, and forging partnerships across sectors.

It was a great year for the Downtown Franklin Association! We maintained a membership of nearly 200 members, as well as active partnerships with stakeholders in the community from building owners to municipal team members and elected officials.

We hosted our monthly meetings, Mixers, Masterminds, and DFA University sessions – creating an environment for the membership to connect with each other, build meaningful collaborations, and grow their businesses together.

Our annual programs– such as the Downtown Franklin Awards, Franklin Locals volunteers, holiday Hop & Shop Trolley, Small Business Saturday, and Window Wonderland storefront decorating contest – kept tradition and spirits alive for both businesses and guests on Main Street throughout the year.

We were also proud to collaborate with the City of Franklin and downtown merchants to bring our Flowers on Main Street initiative to life – with seasonal flowerpots now placed and maintained year-round near the benches and storefronts.

Finally, we were grateful to apply and qualify for the TN Placemakers Grant funding to bring Retail Strategies Small Business Support program to downtown Franklin in 2024, which will support retail, restaurants, property owners, and holiday promotions of the district.

We look forward to continuing our mission of maintaining economic vitality in the context of historic preservation in “America’s Favorite Main Street” district.

THE FRANKLIN THEATRE

The Franklin Theatre took center stage in 2023, solidifying its position as the go-to entertainment hub in Williamson County, TN. Strategic programs and refined processes were implemented to enhance the Theatre’s mission impact. Our “Christmas in July” promotion once again accelerated ticket sales well before the holiday season, and holiday movies returned with sponsorship support from CJ’s Off the Square. During the festivals, we opened our doors to the community offering free movies, college football games, and tours of our historic theatre.

This past year brought new and diverse programming options for the community to enjoy. We kicked off our widely successful Franklin Theatre Songwriter’s Series, a monthly event hosting some of Nashville’s premier songwriting talents. In July, Vince Gill graced our stage for a Franklin Theatre fundraising event. We were honored to host a legend of the music industry and appreciate his time, generosity, and support.

Another noteworthy event that took place on Main Street in 2023 was Mountain Stage, a two-night spectacular recorded by National Public Radio (NPR) and streamed on 280 radio stations across America, with artists Jason Isbell, Steve Earle, and many more taking our historic stage. Also, two more popular artists, Old Dominion and Megan Moroney, came to The Franklin Theatre to film a music video for their new hit, “Can’t Break Up Now,” with over 1 million views on YouTube! Performance-wise, we hosted 225 live events, from international artists to local favorites, and distributed more than 61,000 tickets across our various Jackson®-supported series and other rentals.

In addition to our wonderful shows and movies, we were able to host students from across Williamson County at our inaugural “Summer Sessions” day camp. This two-day, intensive camp allowed local students to learn and receive hands-on experience in the musical theatre and music business world, all within our beautiful venue.

FRANKLIN GROVE ESTATE & GARDENS
MOORE-MORRIS HISTORY AND CULTURE CENTER

After years of planning and diligently working, the Heritage Foundation was thrilled to celebrate the groundbreaking for Frankling Grove Estate & Gardens and a preview of the Moore-Morris History and Culture Center both in November 2023. These two projects are jewels in the historic preservation best practice of adaptive reuse and will serve as cultural amenities for our community and its visitors for years to come.

In 2023, the Heritage Foundation began extensive updating of the c. 1905 National Register of Historic Places building located next to our current headquarters in downtown Franklin at 108 Bridge Street. This building has been reimagined to serve as the Moore-Morris History and Culture Center, a state-of-the-art immersive experience diving into the history of Middle Tennessee from indigenous people to modern day. Thanks to partnerships with Vanderbilt University and local historians, we created an in-depth interpretive plan that allows us to tell the stories related to Williamson County's significant social, economic, and cultural history. The History and Culture Center is also available as revenue-generating private event rental space, taking advantage of its character and design. We have already been able to use The Franklin Theatre and the Moore-Morris History and Culture Center in a complementary event. We look forward to how the Moore-Morris History and Culture Center will allow the Heritage Foundation to host history lunch and learns, preservation symposiums, and collaborative events with like-minded nonprofits such as the African American Heritage Society of Williamson County, Williamson County Historical Society, and the Daughters of the American Revolution. With a grand opening in early 2024, the Moore-Morris History and Culture Center is poised to be an exciting new destination for our region.

Franklin Grove Estate & Gardens celebrated its groundbreaking with a wonderful ceremony on a beautiful November day that highlighted its stunning campus. The groundbreaking also highlighted the importance of the relocation and restoration of the last remaining Rosenwald School in Williamson County. Attendees at the groundbreaking heard from the former students of the Lee-Buckner School about how the addition of the restored school to the Franklin Grove campus will enable them to share their stories with future generations. With site preparation underway, the schoolhouse move is planned for early 2024. The Heritage Foundation has been fully engaged in the design development phase of the entire project. In addition to the Rosenwald School and the already operational Franklin Innovation Center, managed by Williamson, Inc, our plans include a museum of art, stunning natural gardens, and a Center for Educational Excellence.
